Money needed to pay benefits
£151.8m

Shortfall
£18.5m

Funding level
88%

This update shows the position of the Scheme as at 31 December 2022.

Since the last update at 31 December 2021, the shortfall has increased. This is mainly due to the investment return on the Scheme's assets being negative.

When the value of benefits is greater than the assets held, the Union and Trustees must agree a plan to safeguard members' pensions by making sure the assets catch up.

At the last valuation at 31 December 2020, the Union agreed to pay £3.1m pa from January 2022 to November 2026, increasing by 3% each 1 January, to top up the assets of the Scheme.

The Scheme is a Defined Benefit scheme. This means that it gives you an income for life.

The Trustees use the assets of the Scheme to pay pensions to Scheme members, including members who have not yet retired. The assets are held separately from the Union. No payment to the Union has been made since the date of the last statement.

Your Scheme's finances

Working out the value of the benefits promised to members – how much money we need to pay all the members' pensions – is not an exact science. It depends on several things, including inflation, investment returns and how long members live.

A valuation is carried out every three years. As part of the valuation, we calculate whether the assets are worth more than the amount we think is needed to pay out the benefits. If that is not the case, then the Trustees and Union will agree what action needs to be taken.

Changes in the value of the Scheme's assets and the money needed to pay benefits over the past three years are shown below. A new accurate valuation will start at 31 December 2023. This will take up to 15 months to complete.

SFO funding position (£m)

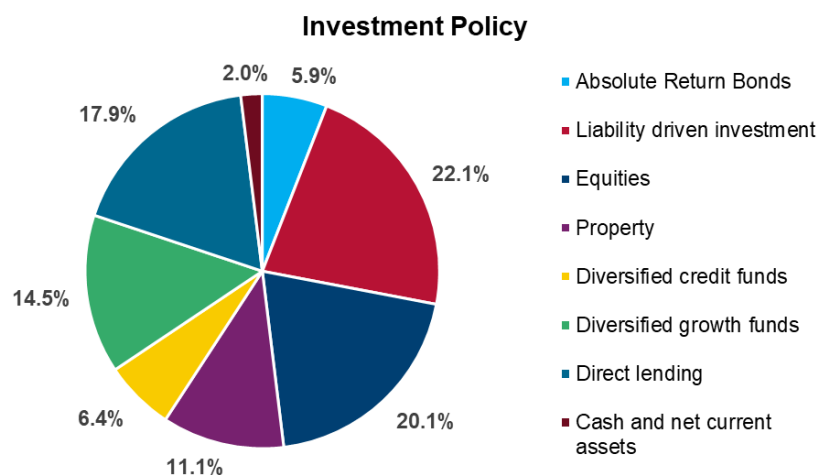

The assets of the Scheme are currently less than the amount needed to pay all benefits to members. This is not unusual.

The assets

The Trustees have an investment strategy in place to make the most of the Scheme's assets by holding a mix of investments in the following way:

Winding up the Scheme – the buy-out position

If the Union wants to let go of its responsibility for the Scheme, or is unable to support the Scheme, the Scheme will be wound up. This means that the Union will have to pay a one-off contribution to the Scheme to cover the extra cost of getting an insurance company to take on the responsibility of paying all Scheme benefits. If this had happened at 31 December 2020, the contribution required from the Union would have been an estimated £147m.

The Pensions Regulator looks after work-based pension schemes and has certain powers it can use if it has concerns about a scheme. It has not used any of these powers in relation to this Scheme.

Additional protection

If an employer becomes insolvent, the Pension Protection Fund can pay compensation to members in certain circumstances. Further details are available at www.ppf.co.uk/our-members.

If you are thinking of leaving the Scheme for any reason, you should consult a professional adviser, such as an independent financial adviser, before taking action.
